A MESSAGE FROM MAYOR TENKE

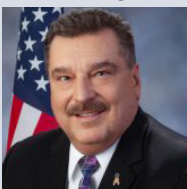

I'd like to take this opportunity to reflect on what a year it has been since the COVID-19 pandemic began affecting our community. Despite the fact that challenges continue, and the virus may continue to impact our lives, there is finally optimism as we approach Spring. Although City Hall has been closed to the public in an effort to protect our employees and residents, our City employees have been here, hard at work every day, keeping the City functioning. To help keep the volume of visitors to City Hall at a safe number, we have instituted a "Lock Box" at the rear entrance of City Hall to drop off bill payments or other correspondence. We have also launched a new website, www.glencoveny.gov, which is more user-friendly and provides access to forms and payment options online. Additionally, all our public meetings are live-streamed and interactive so that residents have an opportunity to participate. I have also been working with our County and State officials to advocate for pop-up vaccination sites in Glen Cove to provide our seniors and under-served residents with easy access to the vaccine. I am happy to report that we were able to offer two pop-up sites on March 4th and March 11th and vaccinated over 800 Glen Cove residents. I will continue to advocate for additional pop-up sites for our residents and I encourage everyone eligible to plan to get the vaccine. Additionally, now that the vaccine distribution is in full swing and becoming more accessible, we are making plans for the full re-opening of City Hall. Of course, the safety of our employees and the public will always be paramount. In the meantime, we continue to make progress on many city projects, some of which we have highlighted on the following pages. We are also happy to report that City Camp is back and better than ever along with Baseball, Softball, Soccer, Football, Cheerleading, Tennis and Lacrosse. We are also working hard to make sure that our Downtown, our Beaches and our Parks are ready for all our COVID-weary residents this summer! I am looking forward to seeing you all out and about in our beautiful City in the coming months. But don't forget your mask! Remember "Wearing is Caring"!

Seaman Road Well

The initial scope of work to reline the old well was abandoned after the engineers discovered it had deteriorated beyond its useful life. Based on that new information a major change order was enacted to install a brand new well at the Seaman Road site. Work is now in full swing and the estimated time of completion is Spring of 2022.

New City Website

The City of Glen Cove launched a new City website.

www.glencoveny.gov

I encourage all residents to “subscribe” for notifications by going to <https://glencoveny.gov/subscribe-to-updates/> If you want to be kept up-to-date with important messages concerning Glen Cove. You can select to be notified by either email or text message, from several categories including: Agendas and Minutes for City Council, Zoning Board of Appeals, and/or Planning Board meetings, Recreation, Glen Cove Ferry, News and Emergency Notices.

Morgan Park Bathrooms

Work on the Morgan Park Bathrooms was successfully re-bid and awarded to a reputable contractor who started work in February. All plumbing and electrical rough-in work have been substantially completed as well as the installation of the new AZEK coffered ceilings in the exterior areas. Work is running ahead of schedule and should comfortably be completed before Memorial Day.

Morgan Park-Sea Wall

The Morgan Park Sea Wall is in the design phase and is scheduled to go out to bid in the Fall for the construction phase. Work will be completed sometime in late 2021 or early 2022.

Pryibil Beach

There is ongoing coordination with our consultant on having interim repairs of the pier that would allow for the reopening prior to the Mayors Snapper Derby and a more substantial rebuild of the structure within the following 12 months. New tree plantings, additional benches, and sand replenishment will be completed by Memorial Day.

Crescent Beach

With the aid of a subsurface pipeline expert, the City was able to locate a culvert that was clogged and contributing to the contamination at Crescent Beach. Additionally, there has been ongoing coordination and cooperation from adjacent property owners of Crescent Beach for the placement of specialized helix filters that would also aid in the removal of certain types of bacteria from the waters entering the beach. Environmental plantings and provisions for sand replenishment have been designed to mitigate bacterial levels in the immediate area. All of the foregoing is awaiting permitting from the NYSDEC. Beach reopening will be dictated by the speed of permits from proper authorities and cooperation from adjacent property owners.

Stanco Park Playground

The City has hired an engineer and will begin the replacement of the playground surface as soon as a Contractor is secured. The current surface has succumbed to water damage and there will be a new drainage system and material installed to ensure the safety of our youth. Look for more updates on www.glencoveny.gov

YOUTH SERVICES & RECREATION

Spring is in the air on our fields at City Stadium! Our newly formed Glen Cove Baseball/ Softball Association has worked diligently to ensure our batting cages are revamped and fixed! Our batting cages will have state of the art turf installed with the latest netting to ensure the safety of all inside.

As part of our new, up and coming baseball season, we are looking to revamp our fields with a softball specific field and a new state of the art scoreboard, plus dugout covers for all fields. More tournaments have been scheduled and we are looking to bring back the prestigious Mayors Trophy in July! Through various fundraising efforts and help of our baseball community we are excited to see what the future holds.

Memorial Day Ceremony 2021

Like so many Cities and Towns throughout Long Island, and the Country, the Glen Cove Memorial Day Parade Committee made a decision to cancel this year's Annual Parade due to the continued uncertainty about COVID health conditions in the community. However, the Committee will sponsor an outdoor Memorial Ceremony to honor our war dead on Monday, May 31st @ 11:00 a.m. in lieu of the traditional Parade. The Ceremony will take place at Veterans Memorial Monument Park (North St. & Forest Ave.) The Committee is pleased to announce that the 2021 Honoree is Sgt. Ralph W. Young. A Glen Cove native, Sgt. Young graduated from Glen Cove High School and attended Lincoln University, the first historically black degree-granting university in the United States. He served as a crew member aboard an air transport ferrying vital war supplies to China from India by way of the Himalaya Mountains. In April 1945, Young was killed when his aircraft crashed into the mountains.

Also being honored will be Dr. Chester "Chet" Pierce. Dr. Pierce, a WWII U.S. Navy veteran, is being named as a "Son of Glen Cove." Born in Glen Cove in 1927, Dr. Pierce was a psychiatrist who was a tenured professor of education and psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. He was the first African-American full professor at Massachusetts General Hospital, was past president of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, and was a consultant for the acclaimed educational children's television series Sesame Street. Dr. Pierce passed away in September of 2016.

Please join the City of Glen Cove in honoring our war dead on Memorial Day, and every day, by proudly displaying the American Flag and taking a moment to say a prayer for the proud men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice for our Country.

Garvies Point Update

Spring has truly arrived at Garvies Point, welcoming all residents of Glen Cove to come see the recently completed public parks, dog park, and visit amazing local businesses and markets.

Starting on June 5th, the newly-named Deep Roots Farmer’s Market, formerly Sea Cliff’s Farmers Market, will return to one of the public parks within Garvies Point.

There’s ample public parking to make a day of it – visit the Farmer’s Market, stop by Garvies Point Brewery for a locally-brewed craft beer, and eat lunch at Brendel’s Bagels. Glen Cove residents also have long loved kayaking from Mercadante Beach and biking and hiking within the Garvies Point Preserve, now more easily accessible than ever.

All of the Garvies Point public parks and open spaces, including the waterfront esplanade of just over one mile, as well as the Children’s Playground and Gazebo areas should be opened and fully operational by late Spring/Early Summer 2021.
